

2757
Sworn daily average for 1904.—An increase of 537 over 1903 and of 1119 over 1904. 1904 circulation verified by Association of American Advertisers.

Adams Mills Bay
Honor in The Page Eight

VOL. 12. No. 32. WEDNESDAY COSHOCTON, OHIO, FEBRUARY 6, 1907. WEDNESDAY

THAW'S LAWYER FALLS DOWN AND DELMAS TAKES CHARGE

CHANGE OF FRONT BY THE DEFENSE Women Leave Court Room When Witness Tells What White Called Thaw

New York, Feb. 6.—(Special)—After an hour's conference this morning with Thaw in the prisoner's pen, all Thaw's attorneys took their accustomed places at the counsel's table.

Dolphine M. Delmas took active charge of the defense, heretofore conducted by Gleason. District Atty. Jerome withdrew his objection to the testimony regarding insanity in collateral branches of the Thaw family. Benjamin Boman resumed his testimony left off last night.

After Boman testified to the names that White had called Thaw, the Age announced that if there were any women in the court room whose use of propriety would not permit their listening to such testimony they might retire. Several went, including Thaw's sisters.

New York, Feb. 6.—Certain of the attorneys for Harry K. Thaw were displeased with the proceedings Tuesday in court, and as a result a conference of the counsel was held.

Philip M. Delmas, upon leaving the courtroom, had declared flatly that he was dissatisfied with the proceedings, and intimated that he was displeased that the conduct of the defense for the day had been intrusted to John B. Gleason rather than to himself. "Dr. Charles C. Wiley, the Pittsburg physician who testified for the defense and was so sharply cross-examined by District Attorney Jerome, could not have been put on the stand," Attorney Delmas said. It had been rumored in the courtroom that Harry Thaw was pleased with Mr. Gleason's address to the jury on Monday, and that he directed that Mr. Gleason should take charge of the defense Tuesday. Thaw's attorneys were ated at Attorney McPike's office, in the conference broke up nothing definite as to what transpired was made public. Mr. McPike was asked whether the rumor that unless Delmas was given entire charge of the defense he would withdraw was correct. "As to that rumor, I can only say that you will have to wait developments," he said.

CLIFFORD W. HARTTRIDGE.
[Of Thaw's counsel.]

It was said that at the conference of the defendant's counsel in the morning, Mr. Gleason that unless he declined to conduct Thaw's case individually and irrespective of their fees, they should withdraw from the case. Mr. Gleason insisted, acting in charge of the report, that he had not usurped the position of attorney, but had taken the initiative in the proceedings at the request of Thaw himself.

Another rumor was to the effect that at the conference written authority was given to Clifford W. Hartridge as chief counsel, with Mr. Delmas in charge of all examinations, it stated. Mr. Gleason, it was said, had acted heretofore merely in a consulting capacity.

EFFORTS FAIL

to secure the jury testimony as to the facts of the case.

HORSE KICKED BREATH OUT OF ERNEST ECKERT

Heavy Ulster All That Saved Life of Horse- man

Ernest Eckert was kicked four or five times by a high mettled horse at Clark's livery barn at the foot of Main street Wednesday morning and severely bruised about the right hip and breast.

But for the fact that he wore a heavy ulster which protected him from the horse's hoof he might have been badly injured. Mr. Eckert, who was formerly of this city and is well known here, although he now lives at New Philadelphia, has a lot of horses quartered at Clark's barn and expects to sell about thirty head of drivers at a sale at Sugar Creek Friday.

Wednesday morning he went to step into the stall at the side of one of the horses when his ulster brushed the animal and it started to kicking. Mr. Eckert's breath was knocked out of him and he was carried to the office of the livery stable where Dr. McClain attended him a letter later. While the injuries will cripple Mr. Eckert for a few days they are not considered serious. A number from here will attend the sale at Sugar Creek Friday. Fred Andrews will be the auctioneer.

Pa., the family physician of the Copleys, Mrs. William Thaw, the prisoner's mother, having been a Miss Copley, was called to testify as to the mental condition of John Ross, a cousin of Harry Thaw. Mr. Jerome objected. Justice Fitzgerald held that until the defense's authorities on the introduction of testimony as to collateral insanity were presented, he thought it best to rule out all such testimony for the time being.

Dr. C. H. Bingham of Pittsburg, who has been a family physician of the Thaws for 30 years, took the stand and testified that he had known Harry Thaw ever since his infancy. He had treated him once for St. Vitus dance. Thaw was 7 at the time. He seemed to be a lad of highly nervous temperament and slept badly at night.

Judge Donley's New Desk.
Visitors at the office of Probate Judge Donley are admiring the handsome oak desk which was recently installed. It has a movable typewriter stand at one side which slides down under the desk when the typewriter is not in use. The desk was purchased from the Fountain Dry Goods Co.

Mrs. Husted went to Millersburg today to visit friends.

THERE ARE GIANTS IN THESE DAYS.

POOLROOMS IN THE STATE

Attorney General Ellis Receives Some Official Information.

LOCATED IN SEVERAL CITIES

Columbus, O., Feb. 6.—Attorney General Wade H. Ellis received official information of the existence of pool rooms in Columbus, Marietta and Cincinnati. It was a development of the hearing on the demand made by Powell Crossley and John G. Rogers, Cincinnati attorneys, that the attorney general bring quo warranto action against the Western Union Telegraph company and other corporations to prevent them from continuing in the business of furnishing race track news for gambling purposes. The attorneys making the complaint declared they could prove that the Western Union, despite its protests to the contrary, was yet in the race track information business. The hearing was continued until Feb. 23.

The quo warranto action is wanted against the Western Union, the Interstate News Bureau, the Cincinnati Telephone company and the American Telephone and Telegraph company. The claim was made that Western Union operators were at the different race tracks and sent out the news through the Interstate News Bureau, which it is alleged is a "dummy" organized to clear the conscience of Western Union officials.

Bell Phone Co. to Move to New Exchange on Feb. 15

FOUND $5,000

It is reported that a hoard of money amounting to $5,000 has just been found at the home of Ebenezer Foster on South Lawn avenue by his son, W. H. Foster, of Roscoe. The old gentleman has always been fond of money and the exact amount of his wealth has never been known to the public. He is now in very feeble condition and cannot live long it is thought. It is said that not long ago about $2500 was found hidden at the house. The money has since been placed in the bank. Ebenezer Foster is believed to be one of the wealthiest men in Coshocton county.

Fatal Fire in Blizzard.
Pelham, Neb., Feb. 6.—During the height of a blizzard fire swept through the livery stables and living apartments above of Richard L. Vaughn, and burned to death four occupants of the home. Mrs. Vaughn and her two-year-old son were caught by the flames as they were groping their way through the smoke. A colored woman was burned in her bed. Thomas Mickey, a stableman, lost his life in an effort to save the horses.

Good Roads Proposition in Hands of a Committee

Age Adlet Stuck to It

It has always been conceded that Age Want Ads are quick little workers, but here is one in a new phase. It had a hard job and kept right at its knitting until it succeeded.

Thursday after Christmas Miss Ida Williams, of Cambridge road wore for the first time a handsome string of gold beads that she had received for Christmas—and lost them. She at once placed an ad in The Age, but still no beads. They were almost given up for lost when a child who attends school at Pleasant Valley said she thought her teacher knew of someone who had found a string of gold beads. Inquiry was made of the teacher, whose home is in Canal Lewisville, and she said she knew of a man dwelling near Canal Lewisville who had found a string of beads and had searched in vain for an owner. He has made one mistake in life—he is not a reader of The Age. But still the little Want ad was working. It had gone to Pleasant Valley, for its perusal down there was what had caused the teacher to say she knew of a man who had found some beads. And thus it worked in that roundabout course up to Canal Lewisville and at last to the man himself and last Saturday he came to town and brought Miss Williams her long-lost beads.

Age Want ads generally go straight to the mark, but when they get hold of a hard proposition like that, they stick to it with a bulldog tenacity until they succeed.

"And if the school teacher at Pleasant Valley" said Miss Williams, who is thoroughly delighted, "had not seen the Want ad in The Age, she perhaps never would have said anything about the man up her way having found the beads."

TO INVESTIGATE COST AND THE LEGAL SIDE OF IT

Plan For Good Roads And Bridges Means no In- crease in Taxes

Toward improved roads and new bridges the preliminary plan was taken Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the county commissioners with representatives of the Good Roads committee, the Business Men's association, the Board of Trade and the rural districts, when Chairman Hanley appointed a committee, composed of

George S. Caton, Geo. M. Gray, M. Q. Baker, Jacob Wolfe, Allan Marshall,

To investigate the legal questions, secure engineers' estimates of the cost, and report at another joint meeting to be held with the commissioners, February 19.

Commissioners Silent

The county Commissioners made no statement as to how they stand on the matter of ordering a special election for the purpose of allowing the people to say whether they favor the issuing of bonds to the amount of $400,000 for the macadamizing of the roads and construction bridges at the west end of Main street and the north end of either Twelfth or thirteenth street, but it is presumed that if the requisite number of petitioners are secured they will authorize the special election.

It would necessarily be a special election as there is no regular county election until one year from next fall.

Attorney McDermott stated that it would be necessary to secure the names on each petition for the bridges but that both improvements could be voted on at one election.

Many Spoke in Favor

About a dozen men out of the fifty-five or a hundred who attended the meeting Tuesday afternoon made speeches and all were in favor of the improvements.

Should the county commissioners authorize a special election to be held, it will be up to the voters of Coshocton county to determine whether macadamized roads shall be constructed leading from this city to the westernmost parts of the county and whether two bridges shall be erected on the edges of the city, one leading to the north and the other leading to the west.

No Tax Increase

W. A. Himebaugh presided at the meeting and stated the purpose of it. His plan was very similar to that outlined by Mr. Caton at the meeting held Tuesday morning in Mr. Himebaugh's office, viz. that the $400,000 bonds be extended over a period of, say forty years, drawing interest at four per cent. The money now raised by taxation under the present system would be sufficient to pay the interest on the indebtedness itself, without being any more burden on the taxpayers than is now borne. It was shown that the state aid would pay for the maintenance of the highways.

All Endorse It

Following Mr. Himebaugh, T. J. Hanley, Geo. Caton, Allen Marshall, of Jackson township, Jacob Wolfe, of near Canal Lewisville, Will Marshall, Geo. M. Gray, James Glenn and B. McDermott spoke.

Mr. Manner said that he was in favor of the movement but that the bridge at the foot of Main street is built he wants the bridge at the north end of town built. He said that he did not see how both bridges could be built for $150,000 on the bridge at Zanesville east of town. Mr. Hanley explained that a familiar with work of this kind (N. Kiser) had assured that both bridges could be built for $100,000.

The speeches of Allen Marshall and Jacob Wolfe were very interesting.

ELKS TO HAVE A GEO. W. BLOW-OUT

Important action was taken at the meeting of the Elks lodge Tuesday evening. It was decided to change the date of the regular lodge meetings to the second and fourth Mondays instead of the first and third Tuesdays as heretofore, in order not to conflict with the business men who keep their stores open on Tuesday nights.

It was also decided to hold a big ruler's chair, appointed the following committee to arrange for the event: Carl Herbig, chairman; Chester Smith, Albert E. Bond, Arthur Woelfle, Jas. Hagans, Harry Kerlin, and Robert T. Hunt.

The exact nature of the social session and the manner in which the brother Elks are to be entertained will be kept a strict secret by the members of the committee and some rich surprises are in store for those who attend the big banquet. Others

Uncle Sam...

Do not think that it is difficult to do a banking business because you live a little distance out of town. Send your checks, or other items, and they will receive your attention.

We cheerfully answer all correspondence and look after matters entrusted to us on day received.

COSHOCTON NATIONAL BANK
Depository of the State of Ohio, and of the City of Coshocton.
Corner of Main and Fourth Sts.

The marvelous growth and consequent magnitude of the Underwood Typewriter Company's organization in this, the fourth year of its existence excites admiration and inspires confidence the world over. This is why today the Company can sell more machines than it can make. People have come to know that.

Underwood
It's good
Underwood Typewriter Co.
1480 Prospect Ave. Cleveland O.

Pennsylvania LINES
Mardi Gras Excursions to
New Orleans
Mobile Pensacola
February 6 to 10, inclusive
Winter Tourist Fares to California
Mexico
Florida and South
Colorado and Southwest
Homeseekers' Excursions
West Northwest
South Southwest
For details, consult
Pennsylvania Lines Ticket Agent
W. H. Klipp, Coshocton, O.

REAL ESTATE
WHY not own your own home? We have good bargains in homes and building lots in all parts of the city. We are practical and experienced, having had 14 years experience in real estate business. If you want to buy or sell or trade anything in real estate, list it with
TISH & PROUS
1000 Stone
Coshocton, Ohio

MINING LAWS MUST BE LIVED UP TO

George Harrison, state mine inspector of Ohio, has determined that all laws upon the statute books governing and regulating mining in Ohio shall be impartially and strictly enforced. He has been particularly active in requiring mining superintendents to provide proper means of safety for the men in their employ by having installed safety doors and other mediums of escape for imprisoned men in the event of fire or damp. Quite recently Mr. Harrison has begun a crusade against adulterated miners' oil sold in the mining sections, by Pittsburg and Ohio concerns.

Going a step farther, last Saturday afternoon, he caused the arrest of H. E. Willard, of the United States Coal company of Cleveland. He was arraigned before Mayor Eberle, of Dillonvale, and fined $50 and costs for failure to observe the law in having "break throughs" or ventilation spaces 60 feet apart. This is one of the safeguards provided by Ohio mining laws, and has not been generally observed. In many mines the "break throughs" are 150 and 200 feet apart. Mr. Harrison proposes to prosecute the officers of mining companies that do not make this provision for the safety of their employes.

OHIO NEWS

Standard Oil's Statement.
New York, Feb. 6.—William P. Howe, assistant secretary of Standard Oil company, issued a statement in which he declared that "no such imposition upon the newspapers as the report of the interstate commerce commission inferences was practiced by the Standard Oil company." The statement dealt mainly with the evidence given to the commission by Malcolm Jennings of Lancaster, O., and claims the testimony of Mr. Jennings was garbled. Mr. Jennings testified he conducted a private advertising agency, and that he had not offered any publisher an editorial matter as advertising. Mr. Howe states there was absolutely no foundation in the evidence, or in fact for the statement in the commission's report, that contracts were made by the Standard for display advertising and then used to cover "reading matter."

Supreme Court Dismisses Haugh Case.
Columbus, O., Feb. 6.—The supreme court dismissed for want of preparation the case of Dr. Oliver Haugh against the state. Haugh is now in the annex awaiting execution on the charge of murder, it having been charged against him that he took the lives of a number of members of his family by poison. The court now will have to fix a new date for the execution.

"Dinner's Coming — I Smell It"

Does Your Stomach Feel Happy When Meal-Time Comes?
When you snuffle in the air the appetizing aroma of something cooking, do you feel that you can sit down, open your mouth, pin back your ears and eat with a delicious gusto, everything set before you, and not feel any bel effects from it?
In other words, can your poor stomach take care of everything and anything you put into it? There are thousands and thousands of people who do not know what it is to have a good, strong, healthy stomach, nor do they realize what it is to have a good appetite.
You can have an all-powerful stomach and a fetching appetite for every meal, and every day, if you give your stomach a rest, and let something else take hold of your food for you and digest it as it comes into the stomach, something that is harmless but that really does the work of digesting, quickly and thoroughly.
This "something" is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the most effective little tablets in the world for curing anything that may be wrong with your stomach. One ingredient of these precious little workers digests 3,000 grains of the coarsest or richest food put into the stomach. Think of it, 3,000 grains! They are really an artificial stomach, because they act just like the stomach, they digest your food, just as though you didn't have a stomach at all. It supplies the stomach with the digestive juices which have become weak and scanty.
Then your indigestion, dyspepsia, sour risings, brash, belchings acidity, fermentation, loss of appetite, aversion to food, bloaty feeling, heartburn and nausea will be no more. You can then eat anything you want, all you want, whenever you want, and your stomach will feel fine before and after your meals. Your appetite will be a thing of pleasure to have, your meals will be a pleasure to eat and relish, and your digestion will be thorough and soothing to the whole body.
You can't do your work well, or be cheerful, or have energy or vim or ambition, when your stomach is bad. Make yourself feel good after a hearty meal, feel good all over, clear your mind and make you enjoy life, by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.
Give your stomach a rest, so it can right itself, then you need fear nothing. Send us your name and address today and get a free sample package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets by return mail. After you have tried the sample, you will be so thoroughly convinced of what they can do for you that you will go to your nearest druggist and get a 50c box of them.
Send us your name and address to—

Receiver For Cold Storage Plant.

Toledo, O., Feb. 6.—Federal Judge Taylor, on application of Oscar H. Paddock of Pana, Ill., a stockholder, appointed C. M. Feilbach receiver of the Toledo Cold Storage company. The latter is capitalized at $100,000. The company supplied artificial ice to the Hygeia Ice company, which was a member of the local ice trust, and the petitioner in the receivership case alleges that the odium attached to the ice trust caused a slump in the cold storage company's business.

Did Not Use Bridge.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 6.—Because he neglected to use the bridge which he himself had forced the Pennsylvania road to build, James Kelley, 70, a wealthy real estate owner, was killed by a train at the Setchel avenue crossing. Some time ago Kelley was struck at this point and his arm crushed so badly that it had to be amputated. He entered suit and forced the railroad to build a bridge.

Receiver's Suit.

Toledo, O., Feb. 6.—Judson Harmon, receiver of the Pere Marquette Railroad company, has instituted suit against the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad company, in common pleas court here, for $17,459 alleged to be due for handling cars for the defendant at Detroit.

Held For Killing Union Man.

Ashtabula, O., Feb. 6.—George Butler of Cleveland, an iron worker, was shot and killed at Ashtabula Harbor. When Butler was on his way to work he was stopped by three or four men. There was a fight, shots were fired, and Butler fell dead. The murder is believed to be the result of trouble between union and nonunion men, which has been on ever since a Pittsburgh company began improvements for Pennsylvania company at Ashtabula Harbor. G. W. Ryle, foreman of the nonunion men, was arrested for the killing of Butler. He made a statement admitting that he was the one who shot the man to death. Ryle says that Butler knocked him down from behind and that he shot in self-defense.

Girl Wins Suit.

Marietta, O., Feb. 6.—The breach of promise suit of Emma Scott, the Meigs county girl who is attending a commercial college here, against Dr. Carl Mitchell of Chicago, consumed but 30 minutes in the trying before Judge Jones here. Miss Stout was the chief witness. She stated that Mitchell promised to marry her in 1901, but failed to do so. He later agreed to settle with her for $525, paid $25 of that amount and skipped. The jury was out but 15 minutes and awarded the plaintiff judgment in the sum of $5,000, less the $25 already paid.

Governor Welcomes Delegates.

Columbus, O., Feb. 6.—The eighth annual convention of the National Builders' Supply association opened here with about 300 delegates in attendance. Governor Harris delivered an address of welcome and Gordon Willis of St. Louis, president of the association, responded.

Hermit's Death.

Toledo, O., Feb. 6.—Infirm and helpless, John Artz, 81, fell out of bed, and was frozen to death before aid reached him. Artz lived the life of a hermit and was found by his daughter in his little hut when she went to administer to his wants.

Thirty-seven Victims.

Elkins, W. Va., Feb. 6.—So far 16 bodies have been taken from drift No. 25 of the Davis Coal and Coke company's mine at Thomas, and it is said that fully that many more yet remain in the mine. It is extremely dangerous to enter the drift for any considerable distance because of foul gases, and compressed air is being used to ventilate the shaft.

Smith Succeeds Alger.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 6.—Congressman William Alden Smith was elected by the legislature to fill out the unexpired term of Senator R. A. Alger, who died suddenly in Washington 10 days ago. Congressman Smith had already been elected as Senator Alger's successor at the expiration of his term March 4.

Kentuckians Frozen to Death.

Pierre, S. D., Feb. 6.—The bodies of Wesley T. Banks and Robert Chandler, who were frozen to death on their ranch near Hays, were brought here. The men came here recently

Andrew Weisner Leaves For West

Andrew Weisner left Coshocton Monday for Columbus and goes on from there to Minneapolis, Minn. George Wanmaker accompanied him and will be employed by the new Weisner company. A number of others expect to follow soon. Mrs. Weisner and daughter Miss Mary will remain here for the present.

Give me the girl with ravishing eyes, And sweet, red lips: She is better than mausons of stone, Or temples of brick. For joy and pleasure there will be, If she takes Rocky Mountain Tea. C. E. Anderson.

Aged Lady is Suddenly Stricken

Mrs. Betsy Crowthers, a lady 82 years old who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Fry at Mohawk, was stricken with paralysis Monday. She is in a very critical condition and is not expected to survive the shock. She has many relatives in this city.

"Doan's Ointment cured me of eczema that had annoyed me a long time. The cure was permanent." — Hon. S. W. Matthews, Commissioner Labor Statistics, Augusta, Me.

FOUR KILLED.

Locomotive Boiler Explodes, Horribly Mangling the Trainmen.

Mount Sterling, Ky., Feb. 6. — The forward engine of a double-header freight train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad blew up near Colby station, killing Engineer Shouse, Fireman Marshall and brakeman Berry. Engineer Harp of the second engine was badly injured. The dead men were horribly crushed and mutilated. Both engines were demolished and several cars were dented. It is said that the explosion was caused by the scarcity of water in the forward engine and the freezing of the valves. Engineer Harp died later of his injuries.

English Premier's Words.

London, Feb. 6.—Premier Campbell-Bannerman in his customary summons to his supporters to attend the reopening of parliament, employs the very unusual phrase "to discuss matters of grave importance." As foreign affairs are now tranquil, these words are regarded as applying to the coming conflict between the house of lords and the house of commons, and judging from the recent platform utterances of prominent members of the government, it is supposed that the ministers will ask the house of commons to pass a resolution limiting the lords' powers of vote.

Railroaders Get Increase.

Washington, Feb. 6. — All conductors, trainmen and yardmen of the Southern railway are to receive an increase in wages aggregating between $350,000 and $400,000 a year. The advance affects hundreds of men. Through freight conductors are to be paid on a basis of $3.18 per 100 miles; local freight conductors, $3.80 per 100 miles; local freight brakemen, $2.15 per 100 miles, and through freight brakemen $1.75 per 100 miles. Other conductors and trainmen are granted proportionate increases, as are the yardmen.

Courthouse Burns.

Hudson, N. Y., Jan. 28.—The Columbia county courthouse, located here, was burned. The loss is probably $200,000.

Do You Think For Yourself?

Or, do you open your mouth like a young bird and swallow whatever food or medicine may be offered you?

If you are an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest medicine or known composition, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and standard authorities of the several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised.

No other medicine for women's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration?

A booklet of ingredients with names and descriptions of each ingredient, and a full description of the medicine, will be sent to you free of charge, if you will send us your name and address.

FAITH DOCTOR DEPENDS ON THE POWER OF GOD

Columbus Gardener Expects to Cure Coshocton Invalids

The faith doctor or divine healer who came here Tuesday from Columbus to effect a cure upon Mr. Adams, who lives in the lower end of Roscoe returned Tuesday evening. He is not a doctor in the true sense of the word but a gardener by occupation. He claims to have cured many but does not attribute his cures to himself but to the power of God. Mr. Warner stated that Mr. Adams' case is a rather difficult one but he expects to cure him. He will return to Coshocton in a couple of weeks and it is said that Gus Ogle, who is assisting him in his work, has some other patients for him to call upon in the vicinity of the fair grounds. Mr. Warner charges nothing for his treatment and all that he expects, is his expenses. He is a slow talker and very plain in his habits. Should he cure Mr. Adams, of Roscoe, it is probable that he will be sought by a great many people in Coshocton. His method is to simply pass his hands, over the afflicted, parts.

State of Ohio, City of Toledo, Lucas County, ss.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

FRANK J. CHENEY
Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D., 1886.

(Seal) A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO. Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

BOAT BLEW UP.

Said to Have Been Engaged in a Race With Another Steamer.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 6.—By an explosion of the boilers on the steamer Parker, near this city, George Kelly, negro fireman, was killed, and Will D. Sibley and Bob Bass, deckhands, were blown into the water and are supposed to have been drowned. Captain Jim Thompson, in command of the boat, was severely injured, as was also Jesse Allison, the engineer, and his wife. The explosion occurred at Williams Island, nine miles below the city, and it is said that it was caused by overpressure on the boilers due to a race between the Parker and another boat.

Indorse Swettenham.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 6. — At a meeting of the city council Philip Stern, the representative of Kingston in the legislative council, proposed a motion expressing unabated confidence in Governor Swettenham. After a short debate the motion was carried, 4 to 2. The passing of this motion has created much indignation in Kingston, and notice already has been given that it will be rescinded.

Coal Famine Imminent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 6.—A coal famine is imminent in the Twin Cities, while at Duluth less than 150 miles from St. Paul, there are thousands of tons of every variety. Coal can not be brought to St. Paul owing to a shortage of cars. Dealers here say

DON'T GIVE UP HOPE

There are plenty of long, black, loose back

Ladies' Coats

in town. Convince yourself. Cash or Credit at the

New York Clothing Co.

Outfitters to Man, Woman and Child. REALTY BLDG. MAIN ST.

Mistletoe Flour

Finest in the World for bread, cake and pastry

EDWIN S. LEE
Empire Mills, Roscoe.

Phone Us

And we will be pleased to have our solicitor call at your home and explain our plan for FAMILY WASHING. It makes the housewife's work easy, and at a very small expense.

DO IT RIGHT AWAY BEFORE YOU FORGET IT.

Eureka Laundry Co.

Cor. 2nd and Main

We Will Feed You

In canned goods we have: Peas, Corn, Tomatoes, Beets, Hominy, Kraut, Pumpkin, Asparagus, String Beans, Pork and Beans, Kidney Beans, Peaches, Apricots, Cherries, Plums, Olives, Salmon and Canned Meats, Dried Fruits and vegetables.
We have: Prunes, Peaches, Apricots, Raisins, Quaker Corn, Peas, Lima Beans, Navy Beans, Marrowfat Beans, Red Kidney Beans, Hominy and Rice, Apples, Onions and Cabbage, Butter and Eggs, Cranberries and Celery.

W. S. SMITH The Park Grocery

Death of War Veteran. Millersburg, O., Feb. 5.—J. C. McKenzie, aged 80 years, was buried at Nashville today. He was the last but one of the survivors of the soldiers of the Mexican war in this county. He was a Mason for 35 years.

THE CENTRAL GROCERY CO. W. A. Smith B. A. Smith THE COSHOCTON NEWS

100

Published Every Evening Except Sunday By
THE AGE PUBLISHING COMPANY
 Coshocton, O.

of Ohio Select List of Daily Newspapers

Subscription Rates	Representatives
For 12 months, 35 cents the month; 100 days for 10 cents; 1 year, payable in advance. Subscriptions when time expires, unless renewed, will be discontinued.	Robert Tones, 116 Nassau St. New York City C. W. Wallis, 311 Boyce Bldg. Chicago, Ill.
For 12 months, 35 cents the month; 100 days for 10 cents; 1 year, payable in advance. Subscriptions when time expires, unless renewed, will be discontinued.	Entered at the Postoffice at Coshocton, Ohio, as second-class matter. Both Telephones, No. 182.

Certificate of Circulation No. 224.
 ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN ADVERTISERS
 THIS CERTIFIES that this Association has examined the circulation of the COSHOCTON AGE, Coshocton, Ohio.

During a period beginning with the first day of January, nineteen hundred and six and ending with the thirtieth day of September, nineteen hundred and six, verifying the same from the press room books of record and system of distribution, and finding that the average number of copies of each issue of the Coshocton Age during said period was two thousand seven hundred and forty-one (2,741) each weekday, according to the definition of circulation adopted by this association.

This certificate is valid only in its entirety.
 Dated, New York, November 8, 1906.

CHAS. W. CHENEY, President
 BERT M. MOSES, Secretary
 H. L. KRAMER, Chairman Com. on Circulation.

ACCEPTED

In Tuesday's issue of the daily Times an absurd and bitter attack was made on The Age and its circulation, and the bold statement made that The Age was lying when it made the sworn statement that its January circulation was 2588.

It is not the intention of the management of The Age to inflict upon its readers a wordy war of invective such as the opposition has launched into, as the public is more interested in getting the news than in knowing how many people are reading this or that paper.

But the business men of Coshocton are interested because they are paying their good hard dollars for advertising.

If any newspaper is getting paid for advertising on a circulation basis, and that basis is not true, the advertiser ought to know it.

The following letter was sent to Secretary Frank A. G. Lawrence of the Coshocton Business Men's association today:

Feb. 6, 1907.

The Coshocton Business Men's Association,
 Coshocton, O.

Gentlemen:—

We enclose you a clipping from the daily Times of Tuesday, Feb. 5th, which is self explanatory and which makes an attack upon The Age Publishing Company and its business integrity. It is not our desire to inflict upon the public a newspaper controversy nor to inflict such upon you, but as the attack vitally interests you quite as much as ourselves, we take the liberty of addressing you.

We accept the proposition made by the Times to actually prove the circulation of the two local daily newspapers. The Age has consistently published sworn circulation statements each month and it was through the efforts of The Age that the Association of American Advertisers sent their representative to Coshocton last October and made a thorough and impartial examination of the circulation of the two daily newspapers. The Age has given due publicity to his report which was in brief: Daily average for The Age, 2741, for the Times 1611; inquiry of that Association will verify this statement.

The Times has not made a practice of printing its circulation statement, but during the past, various, varying verbal reports have been disseminated. The Age has constantly endeavored to give its advertisers full, complete, and honest knowledge of the commodity they pay for—circulation.

To further that end, and to hush foolish wrangling, The Age extends a cordial invitation to each and every member of your Association to examine its circulation. To be more explicit, we suggest that a committee from your Association be selected to investigate the two local daily advertising media, that Coshocton merchants may learn just what they are getting when they spend money for advertising.

As the attack of the Times has been made on our statement of 2588 for the month of January, we suggest that a committee be selected to investigate the circulation of The Age and the Times for that month. We shall take pleasure in giving such committee full access to daily press run, city and county circulation records, cash statements of circulation receipts, and any and everything that will shed light on the topic.

We would suggest that the committee be comprised of a representative of each paper and three business men; the latter to be selected, one each by each paper and those two to select the third. Of course, the Times must give full access to all records just as The Age agrees to. The investigation is not limited to the month of January but may also include any period the committee may select.

We not only suggest that this course be pursued but very much desire it as a straightforward business proposition; the advertisers of Coshocton deserve to know the absolute facts.

The Age is a business enterprise and has always endeavored to attend strictly to its own business. This slight deviation from that well-established policy is solely to bring the absolute facts plainly before every man in Coshocton who spends money in advertising.

Trusting that action may be taken at an early session of your association, we beg to remain

Sincerely,
 The Age Publishing Company

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Hood's Sarsaparilla
 It strengthens and tones the stomach, and permanently cures dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Accept no substitute.

SERVICE HELD COMPULSORY
 Governor Magoon's Decree Establishes New Cuban Army.

ORDER CRITICISED AT HAVANA

All Male Citizens to Constitute the National Forces, Which Shall Consist of Permanent Army and Militia. Conditions Governing Recruits and the Salaries of Officers.

Havana, Feb. 6.—A decree prescribing the organization of the new Cuban army has been issued by Governor Magoon.

Quoting the law of Sept. 15, 1906, providing for the increase of rural guard to 10,000 men and the artillery to 2,000 men, the decree declares that all able-bodied male citizens between 21 and 45 years of age shall constitute the national forces, which shall consist of a permanent army and a force of militia. The permanent army is to be designated "The armed force of the republic." The militia while in service shall be subject to the same discipline as the regular force. The permanent army shall consist of a general staff, a corps of rural guards, a corps of field artillery and a corps of coast artillery, the whole under command of a major general. All enlistments in the permanent army are to be for a term of four years. The conditions governing the acceptance of recruits are identical with those which hold in the United States army. The pay of a major general is $6,000, a colonel $2,600, a lieutenant colonel $3,300, majors $2,400, captains $1,800, first lieutenants $1,500 and second lieutenants $1,200 a year.

The discussion in an editorial article on this decree says: "The whole country will be surprised by an order, written in the hand of a foreign governor, establishing in Cuba compulsory military service. No one can hope that the plan announced for increase and re-organization of rural guard will fail to tend to the militarization of our country. From today all Cubans must be soldiers."

Full Train Crew Bill.
 Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6.—A full train crew bill was passed by the Indiana senate. The measure provides for a crew of six men on all freight trains carrying over 50 cars and a crew of five men on all freight trains of a less number of cars. The bill passed the house last week.

Sage of The Age

New autos are getting ripe.

One thing about an Age Want ad, is keeps at it till it succeeds.

Over at Uhrichsville Miss Nail married Mr. Cooper. He ought to have a barrel.

This is the kind of weather the "cold in the head" ads make good reading.

Necded bridges — decent roads — and no increase in taxes. That's a good slogan.

Wake up! This good roads agitation isn't a dream—but the bad roads are a night mare.

The Thaw they are having down in New York is likely to bring to light the usual amount of mud.

Seven R. F. D.'s for Coshocton city after March 1. Roscoe and Coshocton are pretty close kin anyway.

Selsorinctums

Then There Will Be Some Fun
 Just let Joe Foraker wait until he gets into a debate with Senator Roosevelt a few years hence. —Chicago News.

Might Have Stopped at a Dozen
 An Ohio man has been sent to prison for six years because he has 12 wives. —Chicago Record Herald.

Is Usurping Everything Usurpable.
 Senator Wayne is opposed to the extension of the Presidential power plant. —Baltimore Sun.

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating France from her poverty. He was wise and prudent. He believed in saving rather than in extravagance. He urged economy upon all the king's courtiers, as well as upon the government officials. This was too much for the reckless, plunging aristocracy. The high fliers of French society laughed loud and long, and they determined to carry out M. de Silhouette's advice by a resort to burlesque. Accordingly they economized by wearing coats without folds or ruffles, using snuff-boxes made of plain wood and wearing hats without rosettes. Those who had been patronizing portrait painters turned to the "shadow picture" in sheer ridicule. The shadow picture was the profile cast by the subject on a wall by a certain arrangement of the lamps. The tracing of this shadow outline and its cutting out in black paper and pasting over white paper resulted in a profile likeness. Later some "artists" grew so proficient that they could cut profiles without the aid of the shadow tracing, making them life size or in miniature at will. These pictures were called silhouettes, being "à la Silhouette" because they represented strict economy.

A hundred years ago and more the silhouette was exceedingly popular. Scarcely anybody was too poor to pay a strolling artist for cutting a silhouette. Much less than a hundred years ago the silhouette was still popular. There was no family album then. It was too early even sixty years ago for the family album, which now we are disposed to look upon as old fashioned.

The very first sunlight photograph

Silhouette Was Popular
 A Sketch of Washington's Time
 By WALTER J. JAMES
 (Copyright, 1907, by C. N. Lurie.)

WASHINGTON.

It is in Washington's day there was no such art as photography to preserve the likenesses of the great and the humble. But for the painters of portraits in oil the features of the Father of His Country and of the other important figures of his time would have been lost to posterity. There existed, however, one poor makeshift or substitute for the photograph. That was the silhouette. Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Thomas Paine and other illustrious builders of the republic are preserved to us in silhouette, and even though there had been no painters to portray their lineaments, these simple makeshifts would have given us a fairly adequate representation of their profiles.

The silhouette itself is scarcely older than the American republic. It originated in 1757. Etienne de Silhouette, a Parisian banker, was responsible for both the name and the thing. Personally, however, he had nothing to do with it. The good monsieur was made minister of finance for the French monarchy in 1757. Finances were in a very bad condition. Foolish war and incompetent ministers, not to speak of inordinate extravagances throughout the king's court, had reduced France to a pitiable state. Banker Silhouette was called to the financial ministry in the hope of solving the problem of extricating

Overwhelming Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy Tumor.

The growth of a tumor is so insidious that frequently its presence is wholly unsuspected until it is well advanced.

So called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain, from the abdomen through the groin and thigh.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacements, secure a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, right away and begin its use.

The following letters should convince every suffering woman of its virtue, and that it actually does conquer tumors.

Mrs. May Fry, of 836 W. Colfax Ave., South Bend, Ind., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I take great pleasure in writing to thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I also took the Blood Purifier in alternate doses with the Compound. Your medicine removed the cyst tumor of four years' growth, which three of the best physicians declared I had. They had said that only an operation could help me. I am very thankful that I followed a friend's advice and took your medicine. It has made me a strong and well woman and I shall recommend it as long as I live."

Mrs. E. F. Hayes, of 26 Ruggles St., Boston, Mass., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have been under different doctors' treatment for a long time without relief. They told me I had a fibroid tumor, my abdomen was swollen and I suffered with great pain. I wrote to you for advice, you replied and I followed your directions carefully and today I am a well woman. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system."

Mrs. Perry Byers, of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have been under different doctors' treatment for a long time without relief. They told me I had a fibroid tumor, my abdomen was swollen and I suffered with great pain. I wrote to you for advice, you replied and I followed your directions carefully and today I am a well woman. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system."

COSHOCOTON LADIES

Interested in Thaw Murder Trial.

Ladies seem to be very much interested in the Thaw trial but not near so much so as they are in our famous Tea or Coffee, which we make a specialty. We are sole agents for Chase and Sanborn's famous Boston Tea and Coffee and advise every house wife who is fond of serving an extra good cup of Tea or Coffee to give it a trial. Recognized by all who have used it as the best on the market. Over three and one-half ton of their Coffee alone, sold by us last year. 20c, 25c, 30c, 32c, 35c per pound. Ground to suit with our power mill.

The Snyder Grocery Co.
Both Phones—21. 223 W. Main St.
Our Wagons Go Everywhere.

Wall Paper

Can be effective, tasty and correct in style, without being high priced—

A good pattern costs no more than a poor one—

We show the greatest variety and the most artistic designs shown in this market.

New papers in stock. Do your papering NOW. Don't wait until 1st of April, when everybody is rushed. You can do it better and cheaper right now. We trim and deliver FREE all papers bought of us.

C. E. ANDERSON
Drug and Book Store
404 Main Street

CHAS. W. LOOS
REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE
NEW RODGERS BLDG.
Cor. Sixth and Main Sts.
City Phone: Office No. 106; residence No. 68.

STITCHES

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I was told by my physician that I had a fibroid tumor and that I would have to be operated upon. I wrote to you for advice, which I followed carefully and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am not only cured of the tumor but other female troubles and can do all my own work after eight years of suffering."

Mrs. S. J. Barber, of Scott, N. Y., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Sometime ago I wrote you for advice about a tumor which the doctors thought would have to be removed. Instead I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to-day am a well woman."

Mrs. M. M. Funk, Vandergrift, Pa., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I had a tumor and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removed it for me after two doctors had given me up. I was sick four years before I began to take the Compound. I now recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound far and near."

Such testimony as above is convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without peer as a remedy for Tumor, Growth as well as other distressing ills of women, and such symptoms as Bearing-down, Sensations, Displacements, Irregularities and Backache, etc. Women should remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women. Don't forget to insist upon it when some druggist asks you to accept something else which he calls "just as good."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law, Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Thus she is especially well qualified to guide sick women back to health.

It's Easy To Break In

"A Shoe that is made on carefully modeled lasts. Just room enough at the right place, made for comfort and to keep the feet dry. And then they are trim looking too. The price is alrigh $2.00 to $5.00.

The Shelby Shoes For Ladies

No lady can afford to be without a pair of them. You will know the reason why after you wear a pair of them.

"The Good for Bad Boys" is the only real good Shoe. Try them and see

Brendel Bros.
FITTERS OF FEET
CASH AND ONE PRICE
COR. FOURTH AND MAIN

The Pure Food Laws

Are in force and we are here to help enforce them by selling you the purest oysters on the market. Yes, the

Sealshipt Brand

We have been telling you about all winter. We have them fresh all the time. If you care for something different, try them.

A new supply of Fancy Apples just came in. Prices right. Large Fancy Oranges. If you are not satisfied with the coffee, use Rolston's coffee and you will look no further for coffee.

We are here to use you right Give us a call.

U. G. Rolston
PROPRIETOR
Cor. 3rd and Main. Both Phones

The Calendar.

Today — The Ladies Aid society of Emmanuel Lutheran church meets with Mrs. S. A. Pious.

The L. O. T. M. holds its regular meeting.

The Roscoe Women's Club meets with Miss Lena Akeroed.

The Coshocton Woman's Club meets with Miss Lena Akeroed.

The Coshocton Woman's club meets at the library.

District two of the Baptist church meets with Mrs. Eddy.

Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Dawson entertained at dinner for Mr. Walter Karr.

Tomorrow — The Lady Gleaners of the Christian church, meet with Mrs. John McCann.

Mrs. Haldet's Sunday school class gives a social at the Church of Christ.

Knights of Columbus give a dance and card party at Forbes hall.

The Frauen-Verein meets with Mrs. Henry Ehrlich.

Indoor picnic at the Baptist church.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Grace church meets at the church at 2 p. m.

District 20f the U. B. church meets in the afternoon with Mrs. F. M. Loos.

Loyalty class meets with Miss Nellie Norris.

Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. John Drushl of Wilson avenue entertained the following friends at their home Monday evening in honor of their silver wedding: Mr. and Mrs. Hartman, son Henry and granddaughter Minnie Strusk of Gloucester, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Morford, Mr. and Mrs. Athey and daughter Clara, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Milligan, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien. A delicious supper was served during the evening and several musical numbers were given. Mr. and Mrs. Drushl received two silver tea services, one from their children and the other from Mr. and Mrs. Hartman, they also received a silver butter plate and knife as well as a number of smaller gifts.

Will Help Bring Judge Lindsay.

The social which the W. C. T. U. gave Tuesday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. Kring on Orchard street, was well attended and the offering taken was large; it will go toward defraying the expenses of some plans the union made recently and the proceeds of the next social which will be held in the near future with Mrs. James Hogan will be used to help give Coshocton people an opportunity to hear Judge Lindsay. The Union is deeply interested in the Juvenile court work of which Judge Lindsay is the father and leading exponent, and the members learning of the movement which has been started in club circles to bring him here are ready and willing to do their part in meeting the necessary expenses.

The Chautauqua Circle.

Miss Adda Merrell was hostess at the regular meeting of the Chautauqua Circle Monday evening. Quotations from Macbeth "were given in response to roll call and the study of the tragedy was led by Miss Elizabeth Wilson. Following this Miss Kate McClure read an interesting paper on "The Industrial Counties of England" included in the number being Lancashire, Shropshire and Cheshire. The program ended with a brief review of the December number of Club Notes given by Miss Mohler.

After the program refreshments were served and the circle adjourned to meet Feb 18 with Miss Elizabeth Wilson.

Elected Officers.

The annual business meeting of the Woman's Musical club was held at the library Tuesday evening the following officers being elected:

President, Miss Mary Gage Mortley.

Vice president, Miss Erma Coe.

Secretary and treasurer, Miss Winifred Hanlon.

"These three officers with the addition of Mrs. Clarence M. Eddy and Miss Gayle Ingraham Smith constitute the executive committee. They will assume their new duties next October the present efficient coterie of officers serving until that time. The plan for next year's work has not been decided upon as yet.

Protected Home Circle.

The Protected Home Circle held a splendid meeting in Forbes hall Monday evening every member in the city—with the exception of a few detained by sickness—being present. State Deputy P. D. Stratton of Akron and District Deputy L. G. Graves of Massillon met with the lodge and gave excellent talks on the work of the order. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served. Mr. Graves will remain in Coshocton for some days for a membership campaign and a large gain in members is anticipated as the result of his visit.

Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carpenter celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage Monday evening.

Mrs. Will Oorder and son Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hieser and children Frances and Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Linebaugh and son Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Glaque, and daughter Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Denzer and sons Louis and William, Mrs. Jennie Denzer and daughters Grace and Ethel.

With Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Mary Smith of the Fountain store lent her rooms in the Rogers building for an impromptu supper party which was happily arranged by a number of the employees Monday evening. Those present were Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Guinther, Misses Mary Colony, Jessie Shannon, Lena Akeroed, Nellie and Eva Swihart, Leora Wilson, Lulu Kuntz, Mun Shannon, Nana Elder, Elka Williams, Alta Hawk, Minnie Kechn, Jennie Sheets, Elizabeth Williams, Messrs Arthur Moore, Carey Akeroed, Arthur McCausland, Charley Moore.

For Miss Bachman.

Miss Amelia Bachman of Roswell, N. M., who is being much feted by her many friends here was guest of honor at a very enjoyable party given Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bries. The royal prizes were won by Miss Bachman and Mr. Truman Waltz and the consolation went to John Fallon, Jr. After the game refreshments were served among the guests being Mr. Herman Hosfeldt of Tiffin.

Butterfly Social.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Christian church cleared about $12 at the "Butterfly Social" which it gave Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Harris Ross on South Seventh street. Waffles and hot biscuits—both well fitted to make the butterfly—were served as well as various other delicious viands.

European Contest.

A Columbus paper announces that Miss Anna Denzer of Dennison has entered the ranks of those who are striving to win the free trip to Europe which is being offered. Miss Denzer, formerly lived in Coshocton and her many friends and relatives here will be interested in watching her progress.

The Stitchery.

The members of the Stitchery with Mrs. Ball and Mrs. Vail in addition were beautifully entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. H. B. Hay at her home on Walnut street. The afternoon was devoted to needlework and a dainty lunch was served.

The next meeting will be held February 19 with Mrs. Frank Hay.

The Woman's Relief Corps.

The Woman's Relief Corps held its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the G. A. R. hall, a committee from Richard Lanning post met with the ladies and plans were made for a social which will be given February 22 in the post room the proceeds to go toward work in which the two organizations are interested.

District Seven.

District seven of Grace church held a very pleasant meeting Monday evening with Mrs. A. E. Wilcox at her home in the Wilcoxon building on Main street. Light refreshments were served and the time the ladies passed together passed delightfully.

District One.

District one of the Presbyterian church held a well attended meeting—and served many carpet rags—at the home of Mrs. Kuntz on Monday evening. The next one will be in two weeks with Mrs. Roy Miller on Pine street.

Will Leave for Florida.

Mrs. Sarah Wilson and Mr. Edson Wilson leave Thursday for Daytona, Fla. They will make an extended stay there and will probably visit Texas and Cuba before returning to Coshocton.

District Three.

District three of Grace church held its regular meeting Monday evening with Mrs. W. L. Johnson at her home on South Ninth street. After a short business session refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ransom entertained a small company of friends very pleasantly at cards Monday evening at their home on South Fourth street.

At the Standen.

The heads of the departments of the Meek Co. enjoyed an elaborately appointed banquet at the Standen Monday evening. Covers were laid for thirty-one guests.

Will Assist at Reception.

Mrs. W. R. Pomerene and Mrs. Frank Pomerene will be in Canton Thursday to assist at the large reception which will be given by Mrs. Alice Pomerene of that city.

The Quiet Stitchers.

Mrs. Oscar Haverbeck was hostess at the meeting of the Quiet Stitchers, which was held last evening and Mrs. Horn will entertain the club at its next meeting which is set for Tuesday evening, February 13. With Mrs. Haverbeck the sewing, which Mrs. McClellan of Canton, deputy supreme chief of the Tribe of Ben-Hur is in the city to spend some time on a membership campaign. The organization has been in existence in Coshocton for some time but of late it has rather diminished in attendance owing to the fact that some of the members have moved from the city and others have been unable for various reasons to attend the meetings but Mr. McClellan intends to put things on a firm foundation again, and a meeting will be called for the near future.

The Holloway Missionary Society.

Mrs. Zel Herrington of Locust street entertained the Holloway Missionary society Tuesday evening; she also conducted the devotional exercises after which Mrs. Charles McCort gave a reading on "Deaconess Work" and Miss Anna Townsend and Miss Mary Ricketts contributed vocal solos. At the part of the meeting devoted to business the society decided to serve the refreshments at the meeting of the Men's Club of Grace church which will be held at the church next Monday evening.

After the program a lunch was served and the society adjourned to meet next with Mrs. Jesse Robertson.

Miss Ralston Surprised.

One of the happiest events of winter at Franklin Station occurred last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Lisa Davis where Miss Exie Ralston was surprised by a number of her friends in honor of her birthday. Those who enjoyed the gathering were Rev. Johnson of Columbus; Misses Lana Dawson, Jessie Van Fleet, Agnes Carter, Ethel Kitchens, Mary Fouch, Grace Dawson, Fannie Heck Ada Dusenbury, Messrs Benj. Clarke Leo Davis, John Perkins, Henry Davis Allen Cox, Alva Davis and John Davis.

At the Presbyterian Church.

The members of the Carey Missionary society are very busy just now with final rehearsals for the entertainment which will be given next Friday evening at half past seven in the social rooms of the Presbyterian church. The farce the cast of which was given in The Age a day or so ago, will be an important feature of the evening and there will be a short musical program as well and refreshments served at the close.

District Five.

District five of Grace church met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Wolford and discussed plans for the bazaar toward which "all the districts" are bending their energies; it will be held some time before Easter and the articles sold will consist of home made articles which will appeal to the house wife greatly. It was also decided to hold a sewing bee Thursday afternoon Feb. 14 with Mrs. Hof flefinger.

Sleighing Party.

The following young people formed a sleighing party to West Lafayette Tuesday evening: Ida Burnett, Rosa Rowe, Mary Marlett, Cora Turner, Frank Schleich, Ray Latham, Leo Schleich Carl Jones. They had supper at the Empire hotel.

Entertained at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Meek entertained the following friends informally at dinner Tuesday evening: Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Himebaugh.

Builds up waste tissue, promotes appetite, improves digestion, induces refreshing sleep, giving renewed strength and health. That what's Rocky Mountain Tea will do 35 cents. Tea or Tablets.

C. E. Anderson.

Protected Home Circle. 6-1

PERSONALS

Frank Karr of the firm of McConnell & Karr, went to Baltic today on business.

Mrs. R. N. Barnes, of Franklin, and Mrs. Frank Wisenbush left Tuesday for Marietta having been called there by the illness of their aunt.

Miss Jessie Smith has returned from a five weeks visit in Columbus. G. C. Glass was here from Columbus Sunday.

James Mumaw has returned to his home in Wallingford after a week's visit with relatives in the city.

H. S. Stevenson went to Wheeling to visit his brother.

Elmer Altmack is in Mohawk on business.

Dr. Hutton spent Tuesday with Dr. Crisswell at Plainfield.

Mrs. H. S. Donley and children went to West Lafayette to visit Mrs. Stevens.

Rev. Cornell of Bakersville was in the city.

Frank Keoney of West Lafayette is in town.

Mrs. Emerson Dickerson of West Lafayette is spending the day with friends in this city.

The Ransom Dry Goods Co.

"THE HOME STORE"

Spring Gingham and Percales

Have been selling freely the last few days since we have opened up the choicest on the market in these lines. Percales in light and dark effects at 10, 12½, and 15c. We are showing the most exquisite line of new Gingham you have ever had an opportunity of getting. Early buying should be practiced more than ever this year. Ransom's offerings are complete now, so keep this in mind—Shop early at Ransom's this season.

Flannel Gowns

Worth 98c, $1.25 and $1.50 for 75c. Just a few left of that bargain lot. This is a good time to have these, so come in and buy now. If you don't need it now, buy one for next winter—it will feel good some cold night.

Gowns worth 98c, $1.25 & $1.50 for 75c

THE HOME STORE

"No Poor Goods at Any Price"

Loans on Furniture

Pianos, Fixtures, Machinery, Horses Wagons, or Any Other Chattels

From 10.00 to $100.00

Goods remain in your possession. No charges unless loan is made. Reasonable rates, and on weekly or monthly payments. No publicity.

M. & M. LOAN CO.
Selby Building. Office with M. W. Wimmer

her home in Newark today after a visit with her brother N. Bollwine in this city.

Mrs. Noah McClain of West Lafayette is in town.

Miss Carrie Cassingham has returned from Cleveland.

Judge Hunt left Tuesday for New Orleans.

Ridley Thrapp of West Lafayette is in the city.

R. F. Clark of Fredericktown was a guest at the Star Tuesday and transacted business with J. P. Moham of Warsaw.

Glenn Darling of Warsaw was in the city Tuesday.

E. J. Sechrist of Cambridge was in the city on business Tuesday.

Miss Anna Mercer is spending the day at her home in Newcomerstown.

Miss Elizabeth Bordin returned to her home in Warsaw today after visiting friends in the city.

Floyd Shook of West Lafayette is in the city today.

The Family Physician

The best medicines in the world cannot take the place of the family physician. Consult him early when taken ill.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

REVISED FORMULA

If the trouble is with your throat, bronchial tubes, or lungs, ask him about taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Do as he says.

The new kind contains no alcohol

We have no secrets to hide! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Age Cheap Want Column

THE AGE IS THE WANT
MEDIUM OF COSHOCTON

Want Column Rate

Twenty-four words or less, six consecutive times or less, 25 cents. One cent each word additional. Cash with the order without exception. Call either phone 133 and a messenger will call for your want ad without extra charge. Answers to advertisements may be addressed care of The Age if desired.

WANTED

WANTED — 20 girls at once, none under 16 years need apply The H. D. Beach Co. 4-6

WANTED — First class Machinists, tool makers, and screw machine hands; also Pract and Whitkey screw machine operators. Write Robert Atkins, Box P. 177, Toledo, Ohio. 5-6

WANTED — Sewing. Cal Cit phone B-552. 31-6

WANTED — Three first class metal polishers Address: Robert Atkins, Box P 177, Toledo, Ohio. 6-6

WANTED — Everybody to know I am agent for the Ford Automobile the best machine on the market. Sells from $600 to $2800. H. A. Wisenburg 4-6

WANTED — Sewers, Gingham ap- ons. Make highest wages. Material sent to door free of charge. Stamped addressed envelope for particulars. J. P. Richards, Dept 12, 4504 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago. 2-6

WANTED — The public to know that I make a specialty of cleaning and repairing all makes of Sewing machines. W. B. Wilson, 535 Main street. 2-6

WANTED — 20 girls at once at decorating department Pope-Gosser China Co. 1-6

WANTED — A four or five room house Call or phone Standen hotel 4-6

WANTED — Seven ladies at once for permanent positions, salary $7.50 per week. For information inclose stamp and address 272 Age office. 31-6

WANTED — Girls and boys at the standard plant of the Meek Co. 1-6

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — At 20 per cent off the prices, extracts and stocking feet sold by Miss E. J. Betts, at 218 S. Fourth street. J. E. Magers, Administrator. 1-6

FOR SALE — Six large English Berkshire Sow Pigs, sold pigs out of a litter of twelve. Two good draft sows. U. S. Moore, Phone 62 Nellie. 5-6

FOR SALE — A drop-head Minnesota Sewing Machine, almost new. Price $50. No 535 Main street. 2-6

Railroad Time Tables

WHEELING TIME TABLE

thbound	Mail & Exp.	Exp.
	33	7-5
	A. M.	P. M.
Coshocton	8:00	4:43
Fresno	8:21	5:01
Chili	8:29	5:08
Baldie	8:41	5:20
Sugar Creek	8:53	5:31
Barrs Mills	9:03	5:40
Dundee	9:10	5:46
Beach City	9:23	6:00
Justus	9:30	6:10
Narver	9:41	6:20
Massillon	10:00 a. m.	7:00 p. m.
Orrville	10:31 a. m.	7:31 p. m.
Creston	10:57 a. m.	7:57 p. m.
Wellington	11:44 a. m.	8:39 p. m.
Norwalk	12:30 p. m.	9:17 p. m.
Belleve	12:55 p. m.	9:38 p. m.
Toledo	2:50 p. m.	11:15 p. m.
Chicago		7:15 a. m.

East... 10:07 a. m.
Shroedville 10:33 a. m.
Wheeling 12:45 p. m.

Canton .. 10:29 a. m. 7:05 p. m.
Kent .. 11:25 a. m. 8:05 p. m.
Cleveland 12:25 p. m. 9:20 p. m.
Southland Trains.

Express	Express
8	34
Coshocton 11:34 a. m.	8:34 p. m.
Donneville 11:43 a. m.	8:43 p. m.
Donneville 11:51 a. m.	8:51 p. m.
Donneville 12:03 p. m.	9:03 p. m.
Donneville 12:40 p. m.	9:30 p. m.
Donneville 12:55 p. m.	9:45 p. m.
Donneville 1:00 p. m.	9:50 p. m.
Donneville 1:05 p. m.	9:55 p. m.
Donneville 1:10 p. m.	10:00 p. m.
Donneville 1:15 p. m.	10:05 p. m.
Donneville 1:20 p. m.	10:10 p. m.
Donneville 1:25 p. m.	10:15 p. m.
Donneville 1:30 p. m.	10:20 p. m.
Donneville 1:35 p. m.	10:25 p. m.
Donneville 1:40 p. m.	10:30 p. m.
Donneville 1:45 p. m.	10:35 p. m.
Donneville 1:50 p. m.	10:40 p. m.
Donneville 1:55 p. m.	10:45 p. m.
Donneville 2:00 p. m.	10:50 p. m.
Donneville 2:05 p. m.	10:55 p. m.
Donneville 2:10 p. m.	11:00 p. m.
Donneville 2:15 p. m.	11:05 p. m.
Donneville 2:20 p. m.	11:10 p. m.
Donneville 2:25 p. m.	11:15 p. m.
Donneville 2:30 p. m.	11:20 p. m.
Donneville 2:35 p. m.	11:25 p. m.
Donneville 2:40 p. m.	11:30 p. m.
Donneville 2:45 p. m.	11:35 p. m.
Donneville 2:50 p. m.	11:40 p. m.
Donneville 2:55 p. m.	11:45 p. m.
Donneville 3:00 p. m.	11:50 p. m.
Donneville 3:05 p. m.	11:55 p. m.
Donneville 3:10 p. m.	12:00 p. m.
Donneville 3:15 p. m.	12:05 p. m.
Donneville 3:20 p. m.	12:10 p. m.
Donneville 3:25 p. m.	12:15 p. m.
Donneville 3:30 p. m.	12:20 p. m.
Donneville 3:35 p. m.	12:25 p. m.
Donneville 3:40 p. m.	12:30 p. m.
Donneville 3:45 p. m.	12:35 p. m.
Donneville 3:50 p. m.	12:40 p. m.
Donneville 3:55 p. m.	12:45 p. m.
Donneville 4:00 p. m.	12:50 p. m.
Donneville 4:05 p. m.	12:55 p. m.
Donneville 4:10 p. m.	1:00 p. m.
Donneville 4:15 p. m.	1:05 p. m.
Donneville 4:20 p. m.	1:10 p. m.
Donneville 4:25 p. m.	1:15 p. m.
Donneville 4:30 p. m.	1:20 p. m.
Donneville 4:35 p. m.	1:25 p. m.
Donneville 4:40 p. m.	1:30 p. m.
Donneville 4:45 p. m.	1:35 p. m.
Donneville 4:50 p. m.	1:40 p. m.
Donneville 4:55 p. m.	1:45 p. m.
Donneville 5:00 p. m.	1:50 p. m.
Donneville 5:05 p. m.	1:55 p. m.
Donneville 5:10 p. m.	2:00 p. m.
Donneville 5:15 p. m.	2:05 p. m.
Donneville 5:20 p. m.	2:10 p. m.
Donneville 5:25 p. m.	2:15 p. m.
Donneville 5:30 p. m.	2:20 p. m.
Donneville 5:35 p. m.	2:25 p. m.
Donneville 5:40 p. m.	2:30 p. m.
Donneville 5:45 p. m.	2:35 p. m.
Donneville 5:50 p. m.	2:40 p. m.
Donneville 5:55 p. m.	2:45 p. m.
Donneville 6:00 p. m.	2:50 p. m.
Donneville 6:05 p. m.	2:55 p. m.
Donneville 6:10 p. m.	3:00 p. m.
Donneville 6:15 p. m.	3:05 p. m.
Donneville 6:20 p. m.	3:10 p. m.
Donneville 6:25 p. m.	3:15 p. m.
Donneville 6:30 p. m.	3:20 p. m.
Donneville 6:35 p. m.	3:25 p. m.
Donneville 6:40 p. m.	3:30 p. m.
Donneville 6:45 p. m.	3:35 p. m.
Donneville 6:50 p. m.	3:40 p. m.
Donneville 6:55 p. m.	3:45 p. m.
Donneville 7:00 p. m.	3:50 p. m.
Donneville 7:05 p. m.	3:55 p. m.
Donneville 7:10 p. m.	4:00 p. m.
Donneville 7:15 p. m.	4:05 p. m.
Donneville 7:20 p. m.	4:10 p. m.
Donneville 7:25 p. m.	4:15 p. m.
Donneville 7:30 p. m.	4:20 p. m.
Donneville 7:35 p. m.	4:25 p. m.
Donneville 7:40 p. m.	4:30 p. m.
Donneville 7:45 p. m.	4:35 p. m.
Donneville 7:50 p. m.	4:40 p. m.
Donneville 7:55 p. m.	4:45 p. m.
Donneville 8:00 p. m.	4:50 p. m.
Donneville 8:05 p. m.	4:55 p. m.
Donneville 8:10 p. m.	5:00 p. m.
Donneville 8:15 p. m.	5:05 p. m.
Donneville 8:20 p. m.	5:10 p. m.
Donneville 8:25 p. m.	5:15 p. m.
Donneville 8:30 p. m.	5:20 p. m.
Donneville 8:35 p. m.	5:25 p. m.
Donneville 8:40 p. m.	5:30 p. m.
Donneville 8:45 p. m.	5:35 p. m.
Donneville 8:50 p. m.	5:40 p. m.
Donneville 8:55 p. m.	5:45 p. m.
Donneville 9:00 p. m.	5:50 p. m.
Donneville 9:05 p. m.	5:55 p. m.
Donneville 9:10 p. m.	6:00 p. m.
Donneville 9:15 p. m.	6:05 p. m.
Donneville 9:20 p. m.	6:10 p. m.
Donneville 9:25 p. m.	6:15 p. m.
Donneville 9:30 p. m.	6:20 p. m.
Donneville 9:35 p. m.	6:25 p. m.
Donneville 9:40 p. m.	6:30 p. m.
Donneville 9:45 p. m.	6:35 p. m.
Donneville 9:50 p. m.	6:40 p. m.
Donneville 9:55 p. m.	6:45 p. m.
Donneville 10:00 p. m.	6:50 p. m.
Donneville 10:05 p. m.	6:55 p. m.
Donneville 10:10 p. m.	7:00 p. m.
Donneville 10:15 p. m.	7:05 p. m.
Donneville 10:20 p. m.	7:10 p. m.
Donneville 10:25 p. m.	7:15 p. m.
Donneville 10:30 p. m.	7:20 p. m.
Donneville 10:35 p. m.	7:25 p. m.
Donneville 10:40 p. m.	7:30 p. m.
Donneville 10:45 p. m.	7:35 p. m.
Donneville 10:50 p. m.	7:40 p. m.
Donneville 10:55 p. m.	7:45 p. m.
Donneville 11:00 p. m.	7:50 p. m.
Donneville 11:05 p. m.	7:55 p. m.
Donneville 11:10 p. m.	8:00 p. m.
Donneville 11:15 p. m.	8:05 p. m.
Donneville 11:20 p. m.	8:10 p. m.
Donneville 11:25 p. m.	8:15 p. m.
Donneville 11:30 p. m.	8:20 p. m.
Donneville 11:35 p. m.	8:25 p. m.
Donneville 11:40 p. m.	8:30 p. m.
Donneville 11:45 p. m.	8:35 p. m.
Donneville 11:50 p. m.	8:40 p. m.
Donneville 11:55 p. m.	8:45 p. m.
Donneville 12:00 p. m.	8:50 p. m.
Donneville 12:05 p. m.	8:55 p. m.
Donneville 12:10 p. m.	9:00 p. m.
Donneville 12:15 p. m.	9:05 p. m.
Donneville 12:20 p. m.	9:10 p. m.
Donneville 12:25 p. m.	9:15 p. m.
Donneville 12:30 p. m.	9:20 p. m.
Donneville 12:35 p. m.	9:25 p. m.
Donneville 12:40 p. m.	9:30 p. m.
Donneville 12:45 p. m.	9:35 p. m.
Donneville 12:50 p. m.	9:40 p. m.
Donneville 12:55 p. m.	9:45 p. m.
Donneville 1:00 p. m.	9:50 p. m.
Donneville 1:05 p. m.	9:55 p. m.
Donneville 1:10 p. m.	10:00 p. m.
Donneville 1:15 p. m.	10:05 p. m.
Donneville 1:20 p. m.	10:10 p. m.
Donneville 1:25 p. m.	10:15 p. m.
Donneville 1:30 p. m.	10:20 p. m.
Donneville 1:35 p. m.	10:25 p. m.
Donneville 1:40 p. m.	10:30 p. m.
Donneville 1:45 p. m.	10:35 p. m.
Donneville 1:50 p. m.	10:40 p. m.
Donneville 1:55 p. m.	10:45 p. m.
Donneville 2:00 p. m.	10:50 p. m.
Donneville 2:05 p. m.	10:55 p. m.
Donneville 2:10 p. m.	11:00 p. m.
Donneville 2:15 p. m.	11:05 p. m.
Donneville 2:20 p. m.	11:10 p. m.
Donneville 2:25 p. m.	11:15 p. m.
Donneville 2:30 p. m.	11:20 p. m.
Donneville 2:35 p. m.	11:25 p. m.
Donneville 2:40 p. m.	11:30 p. m.
Donneville 2:45 p. m.	11:35 p. m.
Donneville 2:50 p. m.	11:40 p. m.
Donneville 2:55 p. m.	11:45 p. m.
Donneville 3:00 p. m.	11:50 p. m.
Donneville 3:05 p. m.	11:55 p. m.
Donneville 3:10 p. m.	12:00 p. m.
Donneville 3:15 p. m.	12:05 p. m.
Donneville 3:20 p. m.	12:10 p. m.
Donneville 3:25 p. m.	12:15 p. m.
Donneville 3:30 p. m.	12:20 p. m.
Donneville 3:35 p. m.	12:25 p. m.
Donneville 3:40 p. m.	12:30 p. m.
Donneville 3:45 p. m.	12:35 p. m.
Donneville 3:50 p. m.	12:40 p. m.
Donneville 3:55 p. m.	12:45 p. m.
Donneville 4:00 p. m.	12:50 p. m.
Donneville 4:05 p. m.	12:55 p. m.
Donneville 4:10 p. m.	1:00 p. m.
Donneville 4:15 p. m.	1:05 p. m.
Donneville 4:20 p. m.	1:10 p. m.
Donneville 4:25 p. m.	1:15 p. m.
Donneville 4:30 p. m.	1:20 p. m.
Donneville 4:35 p. m.	1:25 p. m.
Donneville 4:40 p. m.	1:30 p. m.
Donneville 4:45 p. m.	1:35 p. m.
Donneville 4:50 p. m.	1:40 p. m.
Donneville 4:55 p. m.	1:45 p. m.
Donneville 5:00 p. m.	1:50 p. m.
Donneville 5:05 p. m.	1:55 p. m.
Donneville 5:10 p. m.	2:00 p. m.
Donneville 5:15 p. m.	2:05 p. m.
Donneville 5:20 p. m.	2:10 p. m.
Donneville 5:25 p. m.	2:15 p. m.
Donneville 5:30 p. m.	2:20 p. m.
Donneville 5:35 p. m.	2:25 p. m.
Donneville 5:40 p. m.	2:30 p. m.
Donneville 5:45 p. m.	2:35 p. m.
Donneville 5:50 p. m.	2:40 p. m.
Donneville 5:55 p. m.	2:45 p. m.
Donneville 6:00 p. m.	2:50 p. m.
Donneville 6:05 p. m.	2:55 p. m.
Donneville 6:10 p. m.	3:00 p. m.
Donneville 6:15 p. m.	3:05 p. m.
Donneville 6:20 p. m.	3:10 p. m.
Donneville 6:25 p. m.	3:15 p. m.
Donneville 6:30 p. m.	3:20 p. m.
Donneville 6:35 p. m.	3:25 p. m.
Donneville 6:40 p. m.	3:30 p. m.
Donneville 6:45 p. m.	3:35 p. m.
Donneville 6:50 p. m.	3:40 p. m.
Donneville 6:55 p. m.	3:45 p. m.
Donneville 7:00 p. m.	3:50 p. m.
Donneville 7:05 p. m.	3:55 p. m.
Donneville 7:10 p. m.	4:00 p. m.
Donneville 7:15 p. m.	4:05 p. m.
Donneville 7:20 p. m.	4:10 p. m.
Donneville 7:25 p. m.	4:15 p. m.
Donneville 7:30 p. m.	4:20 p. m.
Donneville 7:35 p. m.	4:25 p. m.
Donneville 7:40 p. m.	4:30 p. m.
Donneville 7:45 p. m.	4:35 p. m.
Donneville 7:50 p. m.	4:40 p. m.
Donneville 7:55 p. m.	4:45 p. m.
Donneville 8:00 p. m.	4:50 p. m.
Donneville 8:05 p. m.	4:55 p. m.
Donneville 8:10 p. m.	5:00 p. m.
Donneville 8:15 p. m.	5:05 p. m.
Donneville 8:20 p. m.	5:10 p. m.
Donneville 8:25 p. m.	5:15 p. m.
Donneville 8:30 p. m.	5:20 p. m.
Donneville 8:35 p. m.	5:25 p. m.
Donneville 8:40 p. m.	5:30 p. m.
Donneville 8:45 p. m.	5:35 p. m.
Donneville 8:50 p. m.	5:40 p. m.
Donneville 8:55 p. m.	5:45 p. m.
Donneville 9:00 p. m.	5:50 p. m.
Donneville 9:05 p. m.	5:55 p. m.
Donneville 9:10 p. m.	6:00 p. m.
Donneville 9:15 p. m.	6:05 p. m.
Donneville 9:20 p. m.	6:10 p. m.
Donneville 9:25 p. m.	6:15 p. m.
Donneville 9:30 p. m.	6:20 p. m.
Donneville 9:35 p. m.	6:25 p. m.
Donneville 9:40 p. m.	6:30 p. m.
Donneville 9:45 p. m.	6:35 p. m.
Donneville 9:50 p. m.	6:40 p. m.
Donneville 9:55 p. m.	6:45 p. m.
Donneville 10:00 p. m.	6:50 p. m.
Donneville 10:05 p. m.	6:55 p. m.
Donneville 10:10 p. m.	7:00 p. m.
Donneville 10:15 p. m.	7:05 p. m.
Donneville 10:20 p. m.	7:10 p. m.
Donneville 10:25 p. m.	7:15 p. m.
Donneville 10:30 p. m.	7:20 p. m.
Donneville 10:35 p. m.	7:25 p. m.
Donneville 10:40 p. m.	7:30 p. m.
Donneville 10:45 p. m.	7:35 p. m.
Donneville 10:50 p. m.	7:40 p. m.
Donneville 10:55 p. m.	7:45 p. m.
Donneville 11:00 p. m.	7:50 p. m.
Donneville 11:05 p. m.	7:55 p. m.
Donneville 11:10 p. m.	8:00 p. m.
Donneville 11:15 p. m.	8:05 p. m.
Donneville 11:20 p. m.	8:10 p. m.
Donneville 11:25 p. m.	8:15 p. m.
Donneville 11:30 p. m.	8:20 p. m.
Donneville 11:35 p. m.	8:25 p. m.
Donneville 11:40 p. m.	8:30 p. m.
Donneville 11:45 p. m.	8:35 p. m.
Donneville 11:50 p. m.	8:40 p. m.
Donneville 11:55 p. m.	8:45 p. m.
Donneville 12:00 p. m.	8:50 p. m.
Donneville 12:05 p. m.	8:55 p. m.
Donneville 12:10 p. m.	9:00 p. m.
Donneville 12:15 p. m.	9:05 p. m.
Donneville 12:20 p. m.	9:10 p. m.
Donneville 12:25 p. m.	9:15 p. m.
Donneville 12:30 p. m.	9:20 p. m.
Donneville 12:35 p. m.	9:25 p. m.
Donneville 12:40 p. m.	9:30 p. m.
Donneville 12:45 p. m.	9:35 p. m.
Donneville 12:50 p. m.	9:40 p. m.
Donneville 12:55 p. m.	9:45 p. m.
Donneville 1:00 p. m.	9:50 p. m.
Donneville 1:05 p. m.	9:55 p. m.
Donneville 1:10 p. m.	10:00 p. m.
Donneville 1:15 p. m.	10:05 p. m.
Donneville 1:20 p. m.	10:10 p. m.
Donneville 1:25 p. m.	10:15 p. m.
Donneville 1:30 p. m.	10:20 p. m.
Donneville 1:35 p. m.	10:25 p. m.
Donneville 1:40 p. m.	10:30 p. m.
Donneville 1:45 p. m.	10:35 p. m.
Donneville 1:50 p. m.	10:40 p. m.
Donneville 1:55 p. m.	10:45 p. m.
Donneville 2:00 p. m.	10:50 p. m.
Donneville 2:05 p. m.	10:55 p. m.
Donneville 2:10 p. m.	11:00 p. m.
Donneville 2:15 p. m.	11:05 p. m.
Donneville 2:20 p. m.	11:10 p. m.
Donneville 2:25 p. m.	11:15 p. m.
Donneville 2:30 p. m.	11:20 p. m.

The Fountain Dry Goods Co.

A Window of Beautiful Dinnerware

We have just received a recent shipment of our well known "NORMANDY BLUE" English semi-porcelain ware and are displaying it with others in our west window. The showing is well worth seeing. We carry always in stock complete lines of all dependable foreign and domestic wares for dinner service including white and decorated HAVILAND. We solicit a visit. 100 pc. set white and gold $25.00 100 pc. set dec. Haviland, special..... $23.00 100 pc. Normandy Blue.....$18.50 (BASEMENT)

Advance Showing of Imported Voile Skirts

We have on display today for the first time the beautiful VOILE SKIRTS that are to be such a style feature this Spring and Summer. These are all of imported voile. We guarantee the color and wearing qualities of these garments. The line comprises a variety of approved models in embroidered panel effects and taffeta pipings. You can rely on our advance showing as a criterion of what is accepted for SPRING FASHIONS. Black skirts of the famous Altman Voiles.....$12.50 & $13.50 to $17.50 Silk Petticoats—newest models.....$5.00 to $12.50 (Second Floor)

Silk Coats—A Style Feature For Spring

OUR SILK DEPARTMENT has gained a reputation throughout this county. In fancy silks we show the new things first. In black taffetas we simply stand alone. We have sold more black silk within the last year without complaints, than our combined competition. It is time to buy black taffeta for the new coats and silk petticoats that are a necessity with the new voile skirts. Yard wide Black Taffeta....98c, $1.25, $1.50 & $2.00 We are sole agents for "MONEY BAK" Black Silks. A written guarantee with every yard.

First Exposition of Spring Gingham and Wash Goods NEXT WEEK

The Fountain

Advance Spring Opening of New Gingham and Wash Goods NEXT WEEK

POLO

Wednesday Evening Feb. 6

Coshocton vs. Mt. Vernon

Music by the Band - Skating Until 10:30
Game called at 8 p. m.
MAIN STREET RINK

YOU will find the greatest satisfaction saving money.

any a good opportunity for saving has been lost by not getting the available funds at right time. Open an account today in strong, conservative bank.

THE PEOPLES SAVING & TRUST CO.

Pres. R. H. Mills, Cash., E. Daughman, Asst. Cash. Open Saturday Night.

REQUEST

hundreds of our patrons who are unable to see "The Passion" at evening, it will be repeated at electric theatre this evening.

Lost Horses

Wm. Markley's barn has been lost to his horses for some time. Markley's horses are now being sought.

Age Found His Lost Jewellery

If you want to sell a set of book shelves, advertise in The Age. If you want to rent a room, advertise in The Age. If you want to lose your troubles advertise in The Age. And if you want to find your watch charm which an unkind fate has removed from your keeping advertise that in The Age too. Jim Preston gives this sage advice prompted by the fact that a small adlet brought him back a watch charm which was a Christmas gift and accordingly highly prized. It was found by Mrs. Frank Fuhr and by her restored to its owner.

Odd Fellows Feast at Nellie

The Odd Fellows at Nellie enjoyed a coon roast Tuesday evening after the regular session of the lodge and are feeling accordingly grateful to J. M. Barrett, one of the members of the order. He brought in the coon, which was done to a turn, along with the usual accessories and the informal banquet was thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. Kreider Ill at Conesville

Conesville, Feb. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Balo visited Adams Mills relatives Sunday last. Mrs. Kreider is very ill at this writing. Dr. L. C. McCurdy is in attendance. The new Bell Telephone exchange is complete with modern equipments which the company respectfully request the public and especially their patrons to call and see. Mr. Wilson Cornell of Bakersville, visited relatives here this week. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Balo of Adams Mills visited relatives here Tuesday. Clyde Wheeler returned from a business trip to Columbus Tuesday.

TACO Best 5c Cigar in town. For gentlemen of good judgment.

New Dormitory For Wooster

[By Telegraph to The Age] Wooster, O., Feb. 6.—It was announced that L. H. Severance of Cleveland has sent word that he would furnish the sum needed for the completion of the girl's dormitory of the Wooster college. The structure, it is claimed, will cost $100,000. The sum Mr. Severance will pay is estimated at $30,000. The building is to be known as Holden Hall, in honor of L. E. Holden of Cleveland.

Don't delay, join P. H. C. now 6-1

New Baby List. Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Bartholomew, of Chili, a son.

is FOR LADIES, TOO.

Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Hoppicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with "Hoppicide." Besides, Hoppicide is one of the most agreeable hair restorers there is. Hoppicide kills the andruft germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow back as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newb's Hoppicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain. 4c. 50c. by mail. Hoppicide Co., New York.

COSHOCTON BOY GETS HIGH HONOR OUT IN OREGON

Albany, Or., Feb. 6.—In the local tryout held at the Presbyterian church to select a representative to represent Albany college in the state oratorical contest to be held at McMinnville, E. B. Tilton was chosen. His subject was, "An Increased Purpose." His opponent, Fred Neal, spoke on "The Awakening of the Civic Conscience." Last year Albany was successful in carrying off the honors and with the selection of Mr. Tilton feels the prospects this year are bright for Albany college.

Mr. Tilton is a student of Albany College, Oregon, preparing for the Presbyterian ministry. He was born and raised in Virginia township and the son of Thomas Tilton.

Mrs. Austin's Pancakes, really superior to everything. Ask your grocer

Business Men Meet Thursday

The Coshocton Business Men's association will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening in the Gray building. It is very necessary for every member to be present as many matters of importance are to be looked after. An assistant collector will be decided upon, a place of meeting, as well as several other things.

Mrs. Austin's Pancakes, really superior to everything. Ask your grocer

SOCIALISTS

Loss Additional Seats in the Reballoing in Germany.

Berlin, Feb. 6.—The reballoing in the elections which occurred Tuesday throughout the empire emphasized the government victory of Jan. 25. There were further heavy losses in Socialist seats, while the Clericals more than held their own. The Socialists now return to the reichstag shorn of nearly half their strength. They have lost old strongholds like Dresden, Elberfeld and Frankfurt-on-the-Main, and they suffered defeat in Stettin, Darmstadt, Pluen, Grimma, Annaberg and Munich. On the other hand they have captured Strasburg, Wiesbaden, Offenbach and Muehlheim-on-the-Rhine. A tabulation prepared by the Lokal Anzeiger, with three districts still to be heard from, gives the Socialists 43 seats in the new reichstag against 79 seats in the old body.

The Lokal Anzeiger gives the following estimate of the composition of the new house: The two Conservative parties, 81 seats as against 73 seats in the old house; the Agrarians and anti-Semitic group, 26 seats as against 21; the Clericals, 108 seats as against 104; the National Liberals, 56 seats as against 51; the Radical group, 48 seats as against 36; the Socialists, 43 seats as against 79; the Poles, 20 seats as against 16, and the irregulars 12 seats as against 16.

Ran Right Through Door

One of the doors of the Standen hotel is minus a window glass today as the result of an accident that happened at an early hour Wednesday morning. Charles Zoar a glass worker, returned home from the factory and ran from the wagon to the entrance. He tried to open the door in his hurry to get inside out of the cold, and it was frozen at the bottom. He fell against the glass and broke it out. The glass was heavy and fell all around him, but he escaped uninjured.

BELOW ZERO.

Cold Wave Still Reigns in the Great Northwest.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 6.—With very few exceptions there has been below zero weather in and about St. Paul for 17 days, and for the past three days beginning with Sunday, when the official temperature was down to 22 below zero, it has been in that neighborhood. The lowest official temperature was 22 below, while most of the thermometers went as low as 30 below. In North Dakota 30 degrees below zero was quite common, and this, coupled with terrific blizzards, which raged almost without letup until Saturday, made living anything but pleasant. In some towns and in remote parts of the state there has been much suffering on account of little fuel. There have been reports of many people freezing to death in North Dakota, but these reports have been denied.

"Subway" McDonald President.

New York, Feb. 6.—John M. McDonald of this city, the contractor who constructed the subway, was elected president of the Panama Construction company. This company was formally organized under the laws of the state of New York for the purpose of building the Panama canal in the event the contract is awarded by the government to William J. Oliver, one of the contractors, and his associates. The other officers elected were: First vice president and general manager, W. J. Oliver; chairman of the board, R. A. C. Smith; secretary and assistant treasurer, D. V. Reynolds, treasurer, R. A. Chester. Mr. Oliver has associated himself with nine well-known contractors and, according to Mr. McDonald, all the financial requirements of the government have been met.

Dirt Flying on the Isthmus.

Washington, Feb. 6.—While consideration is being given to the question of letting the contract for the digging of the Panama canal, the work is going on there at a rapid pace. A cablegram received at the war department from Chief Engineer Stevens contained the announcement that all previous records had been eclipsed. The dispatch is as follows: "We took out 566,750 cubic yards from Culebra cut in January, about twice the best monthly record made by the French."

GOOD ROADS

Continued from Page One.

the payment of the indebtedness over a number of years it would make it easier for everybody and at the same time the improvements would be permanent and enjoyed by the present generation as well as posterity.

RIPPETH'S STORE NEWS

Muslin Underwear Sale

This will be a week of Muslin Underwear Shopping in this city

Comparison Invited

We will not here announce any prices, nor make any claims for superior qualities, styles or workmanship. If you will let us show you before you make your selections, we will let you be the judge as to whose assortment excels, and whose prices are the best.

SPRING GINGHAMS

We are showing our new stock of Spring Gingham, and would be pleased to have you see the many new styles they come in. Prices no higher than last season.

Renfrews 10c Bates 12 1-2c
Bornaly's 15c

The Rippeth Dry Goods Store

Who Will Get It

A fine genuine Mahogany Napoleon or Colonial Chamber Suite, heavy rolls on head and foot, claw feet, large glass. A beauty, worth nearly double the money but the first customer applying for it this week gets it for $49.00. Just to awake new interest in the bargain prices that have turned so many pretty pieces out of our stock in January. Many snaps left for February. Rose Bros., 61 Furniture and Undertaking.

NOTICE !!

I have purchased the hacks of Wm. Markley and will answer all calls promptly. Both telephones. John Wagers. 2-6

BOND'S

We're Closing Out the Balance of Our Overcoats

And no matter what your height or build may be, we can fit you perfectly—You'll find, as hundreds of men do, that BOND'S CLOTHES are matchless in fabric, cut and service. Our regular low prices are

Reduced 25 per cent

OUR $10 & $12 OVERCOATS	OUR $15 & $18 OVERCOATS	FINEST $20 & $25 OVERCOATS
Every size and style cut to	Sizes for all men this sale	The latest models go at
$7.85	$11.25	$15.00
AND	AND	AND
$9.00	$13.50	$17.50

Same reduction on our Suits

$3.00 TROUSERS	$2.25	$4.00 TROUSERS	$3.00
------------------------	---------------	------------------------	---------------

